Build WEALTH with Isagenix®

Doctor skeptical about Isagenix at first, now enjoys new residual income

Thousands of healthcare professionals turn to Isagenix every day to not only provide a wellness solution for their patients, but also to take care of the rising overhead costs of their practices and free them from the long, stressful hours in the office. Discover how many of these professionals have found the formula for greater health and wealth, and are changing even more lives.

Dr. Nick Messina, MD.

After his office nurse lost 85 pounds, and her husband 122 pounds, Dr. Nick Messina tried the products himself and turned from skeptic to strong proponent of the Isagenix product system. Patients embraced the products and so enjoyed the results that thousands of dollars in additional income flowed into his practice. Unexpectedly, family challenges and a personal health issue caused Dr. Nick to work only part time last year, however he still enjoyed a full-time income. Isagenix success made up the difference. Now, he reminds colleagues that their income is dependent upon physically examining patients and their safety net is only as good as their next three months of accounts receivable. If anything disrupts their schedule, similar to what happened to him, how would they keep the income flowing? Patient success with Isagenix gave Nick the residual income he needed.
